

The Social Economy, Public Procurement and Public-Social Partnership in Europe

Contents

1 Introduction

- 1.1 Social clauses
- 1.2 Social cooperatives and subsidiarity

2 Public procurement in Europe

- 2.1 Introduction
- 2.2 The legislative package of public procurement directives
- 2.3 Public procurement procedures
- 2.4 Service design contests
- 2.5 Final provisions

3 Social enterprises and Directive 2004/18/EC

4 Public procurement for social enterprises: the Italian experience

- 4.1 Introduction
- 4.2 Consolidated forms in the award of services supply contracts
- 4.3 A useful tool to promote social economy and work integration of disadvantaged people: direct award to social cooperatives
- 4.4 Tenders above the EU threshold
- 4.5 A possible model administrative process for the regulation of the relationship between public authorities and WISEs (work integration social enterprises)
 - 4.5.1 Type 1: goods and services supply contracts with work inclusion aims
 - 4.5.2 Type 2: agreements with social cooperatives under article 5, paragraph 1, law 381/1991
 - 4.5.3 Type 3: agreements under art. 5, paragraph 4, law 381/1991, as amended by art. 20 of law 52/1996
- 4.6 The basis of public-social partnership in Italy: piani di zona (area plans)

5 Public procurement for social enterprises: the UK experience

- 5.1 The legislative and policy framework in the UK
- 5.2 The policy framework for procurement
- 5.3 The legal framework for procurement
- 5.4 Social enterprises and public procurement
- 5.5 Internal financial regulations
- 5.6 Community benefits
- 5.7 Some examples
- 5.8 Increasing local social enterprise involvement in the public sector

6 Future perspectives

- 6.1 Public-social partnership
- 6.2 Some examples – partnerships in some key areas
- 6.3 Green procurement

7 Conclusions